

Development of the integrated energy farm: Implementation of the FAO-UN concept towards sustainable food and energy management

N. El Bassam, C. Hofmann
Federal Research Centre for Agriculture (FAL), Braunschweig and International Research Centre for Renewable Energy, Dedelstorf,
Germany

This paper describes the concept and the stage of the implementation of the Integrated Energy Farm in Germany to serve as a model for other regions. It considers the optimization of the energetic and food autonomy and based on ecologically semi- closed system and giving consideration to the bio-diversity and landscape management.